GOVERNOR AT VALLEY MILLS SCORES T. U.

DECLARES HE STANDS FOR A GREAT UNIVERSITY WITH-OUT MOB VIOLENCE.

"MAY BE UNEDUCATED FOOL BUT I'VE GOT THEIR NUMBER"

TAKES OCCASION BEFORE OLD
SETTLERS TO OUTBURST OF ANIMOSITIES.

Special to The News.
Valley Mills, July 13.—While the board of regents of the University of Texas was discharging six members of the faculty in session at Galveston, Gov. James E. Ferguson delivered today probably his most bitter speech on the university issue. He reiterated his declaration about "some people going hog-wild about higher education" and reinforced it with the declaration that some persons are "damn fools" about higher education. He used the lash of sarcasm unmercifully in his references to the recent tangle of litigation intended to stay his hand and hold up action by the board of regents.

"Those fellows talk about the constitution," he sneered. "I know the constitution calls for a university of the first class and that is the kind of a university I am for. That does not mean a university supported by mob violence with dead men on the payroll. That doesn't mean a university with fraternities for golf balls and high balls and silk socks and ten-dollar bouquets that turn out young men who come home tickling a mandolin and nursing a weak kidney as a result of their pace. Scores President Vinson.

"Those fellows talk about the constitution. Why they don't care any more about the constitution than a tom cat does about a marriage license. All that fellow Vinson wants is to hold to that six-thousand-dollar-a-year treat—four thousand dollars a year more than he ever earned before in his life. "They talk about the constitution and then they rush into the courts to stop the regents from controlling the faculty in conformity with the constitution and they rush into court to stop me from appointing a member of the board of regents in conformity with the constitution."

The old settlers' picnic at Valley Mills had drawn a crowd of nearly 2,000 to a large grove of trees near the town. Dodgers had proclaimed the fact that the governor would speak, and about 1,800 persons had gathered near the stand to hear him. The governor arrived shortly before 11 o'clock and was warmly greeted by the crowd. E. D. Head of Valley Mills presided and introduced J. W. Butler of Clifton, former president of Texas Bankers' association and former member of the board of regents. Mr. Butler spoke briefly, commending the business administration of the governor and referring to the inevitable attacks that follow the institution of sweeping reforms. He said he had sometimes been tempted to wish that the other party was more near the strength of the democrats in this state so that they would be ashamed out of attacking a man as soon as they have elevated him to office.

Speaks to Old Settlers.
Mr. Butler introduced Governor Ferguson. The governor at length praised the old settlers for their heroic part in paving the way for the benefits enjoyed by the present generation. He referred especially to the zeal of the founders of this state for education and then told of his own desire to see the country schools of Texas reaching all of the people. He told of the passage of the rural school bill and of how it has meant the extension of the term from four and a half to six and a half months for 1,400 schools in this state. He said he had no desire to take anything away from the city schools, but to bring the country schools up to an equality with them.

When he had discussed this matter at some length he paused and smiled. "I know what you want me to talk about and I am not going to disappoint you," he said. This was greeted with laughter and applause. He then stated that he had no desire to ruin what they were going to do with it. I

ANTI-VINSON SHOTS FROM FERGUSON'S ADDRESS AT VALLEY MILLS REUNION

Some persons are going hog wild over education and some of them are damn fools.
"They don't care any more about a constitution than a tom cat does about a marriage license."
"Any Mick foreman would get fired for carrying dead men on the payroll."
"A good university doesn't mean one supported by mob violence."
"If a Jewish rabbi or a Catholic priest or a seven-day adventist was made president this grove wouldn't hold the lawyers who would be saying it was unconstitutional."
"They say I'm an uneducated fool, but I've got their number and so have the people of the state."

REGENT BOARD FINISHES WORK

NO RECONSIDERATION OF BUD-GET ITEMS IS GIVEN AT GALVESTON SESSION.

Galveston, July 13.—The board of regents of the University of Texas adjourned today to the regular October meeting which will be held in Austin. During the session this morning there was no reconsideration of any items of the budget adopted last night which is tantamount to continuation of Dr. Robert E. Vinson as president and the continuation of all members of the faculty except those who were dismissed. It is possible that some of the items in the budget and the professors connected therewith may come up for reconsideration at a later meeting as several members indicated that such action might be taken.

BRUMBY'S STATEMENT ON MEAT SLAUGHTER BRINGS QUICK RESULTS

Mayor Dolins has promised an immediate clean-up of slaughter house conditions in Waco. City Attorney Maxwell and Commissioner Allen have saddled the blame for whatever bad conditions do exist on Dr. Hodges, pure food inspector, and Dr. Hodges has once more informed his higher-ups that he had reported cases which were not acted upon.

Such is the situation to date in the recent discussion of sanitation in Waco, brought about by a statement of Dr. W. M. Brumby in the Morning News of Thursday that army officers would not buy meats slaughtered in Waco on account of conditions of slaughter.

The mayor has told Dr. Hodges to go ahead and push a campaign for sanitation, and so told The News yesterday in an interview. Immediate action is contemplated and immediate results are anticipated. The mayor has stated that he will do everything in his power to see that the situation is remedied.

WACO DRAFT TO CALL FOR 262 MEN FOR ARMY

SUCH IS WORD RECEIVED FROM WASHINGTON REGARDING DRAFT PLANS.

COMPILED BY U. S. BOARD

THIS IS TWO-THIRDS OF ONE
PER CENT OF CITY'S ESTI-MATED POPULATION.

The revised figures of populations prepared by the census bureau upon which will be based the selection for the National Army and to fill vacancies in the other branches of the military establishment to the total of 637,000 men show that Texas will furnish in the first call 29,314.

This sum is two-thirds of one percent of the population shown by the census bureau. At the same ratio the city of Waco will furnish 262, county of McLennan, exclusive of the city of Waco 229.

The foregoing are, of course, gross figures. There is to be deducted according to information from Washington, allowances for enlistments in the regular army and the national guard. These deductions are arrived at by a formula which has been prepared in Washington, and according to best advice take minute figuring to compile correctly. The details of this formula have not yet been announced in official government dispatches. Provost Marshal General's department will determine the quotas for the states and the various governors, through adjutant general's departments will apportion the quotas to the local jurisdictions.

The minimum requirements of any Texas county or city separately listed may be determined by taking (as was done above) two-thirds of one percent of the following populations:

County	Population
McLennan	49,464
Waco (city)	39,252
Bosque	18,262
Coryell	21,996
Bell	49,056
Falls	41,352
Hill	48,573

WILSON ISSUES FORMAL ORDER DRAFTING 637,000 MEN INTO BIG U. S. ARMY

By the Associated Press.
Washington, July 13.—A formal order by President Wilson drafting 637,000 men into the military service under the selective conscription law, was promulgated today by the war department, together with an official allotment, showing what part of the total must be furnished by each state and territory. The only steps now remaining are distribution by the governors of state quotas among the local exemption districts and the great lottery, which probably will be held next week and which will establish the order in which registrants are to present themselves for service or exemption. The men summoned for service will be used to fill the regular army and national guard to war strength and to organize the first 500,000 of the new national army.

Members of German Government Halt to Await Peace Statement

By Associated Press.

COPENHAGEN, July 13.—Serious news came from Berlin late today. The Reichstag has gone on strike and the members have decided to suspend the labors both of the full house and the main committee until the political situation is cleared up. This leaves the war credit bill in abeyance.

Emperor William has summoned Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, chief of the general staff, and General Ludendorff, the chief quartermaster general, for a conference. This news should be interpreted in connection with intimation that the German government has decided to refuse to parliamentarize the cabinet and the difficulties reported in connection with the adoption of a peace resolution.

By the Associated Press.
Bisbee, Ariz., July 13.—Having rid the Warren district of 1,200 supporters of the I. W. W., citizens and officials of Bisbee and Lowell today started making arrangements that will prevent any of the men deported yesterday or any of their sympathizers from returning. Plans are under way for maintaining heavy armed guards on the main roads leading into the district for miles around. It was stated tonight that permanent camps would be established for the guards and every person entering the district would be examined before being allowed to pass.

Only one member of the I. W. W. attempted to return with the guards. This man, a waiter, was recognized soon after the train left Hermans and was put off at the next station.

LEADVILLE ZINC STRIKE SEEMS IMMINENT—MEN CALL MEETING TO ACT

By the Associated Press.
Leadville, Colo., July 13.—Unless the influence of Charles Moyer and John Lawson can avert it, or some other event prevents, Leadville's zinc and other miners' strike was ordered to-night at a mass meeting of miners here. Three thousand men are involved.

Federal mediators who have been trying to avert a shut-down of the mines, whose output is an important factor in the manufacture of munitions, virtually have abandoned hope of preventing a strike.

Germans Push British Back Along Belgian Coast By Heavy Mine Attacks

By the Associated Press.
British Headquarters in France, July 13.—The German attacks along the sand dunes of the Belgian coast on Tuesday evening was in nearly all respects a miniature of the British attack on the Messines ridge on June 7. It seemed as if the Germans had studied that battle in detail and planned their thrust wholly on the lessons learned. There was a vast difference in the size of the two operations, however, for while the German attack on Tuesday was limited to 1400 yards, the British charge at Messines was along a ten mile front.

The depth of the two attacks was also in the ratio of ten to one, the Germans having advanced about 660 yards, or to the British support line, where they are now endeavoring to entrench themselves, while the British have fallen back to the west bank of the Yser.

A Miniature Messines.
This little battle on the sands of Flanders will live largely through the valorous defense of the English troops who met the shock of the German massed formation after having their protecting defenses blown to pieces about them by the greatest concentra-

"Faster!"

RUSS GAINING MOMENTUM IN LEMBERG DRIVE

FOLLOW DNIESTER IN GALICIA
WITH FIGHTING OVER
FIFTY MILE FRONT.

By Associated Press.
Gaining momentum as it moves eastward the great Russian drive along the Dniester in Galicia continues. The fighting is progressing on a fifty mile front from Halicz to the foothills of the Carpathians and all along the lines the Russians are advancing.

Northwest of Halicz on Thursday the Russians enlarged their gains north of the Dniester, captured important heights between the river and Bukaczowce occupied two villages. The advance is in the direction of Lemberg. In the center and on the southern end of the line, the Russians have been victorious in heavy battles for the possessions of the crossings of the river Lomnica. They have made progress on the road to Dolina and have captured the crossings of the Lomnica at Perehinsko about fifteen miles south of Kalusz and four miles west of Bohorodzyan.

In the capture of Kalusz, General Korniloff's soldiers took nearly one thousand prisoners, mostly Germans. In addition five heavy guns and ten machine guns fell into their hands. A probable resumption of heavy fighting on the eastern front north of the Priphet marshes and in Rumania is indicated.

On the Dvina and Shara rivers and near Smorgon, north of Pinsk, there has been more active infantry fighting. No determined attack, however, has yet developed.

Raid and reconnoitering engagements have occupied the British and Germans on the northern end of the front in France. South of St. Quentin, along the Aisne front and on both sides of the Meuse in the Verdun region, the artillery, only have been active.

In aerial fighting French airmen have brought down ten German airplanes and driven eight enemy machines down behind their own lines in damaged condition.

EIGHT YEARS OF LITIGATION FOR NEGRO FINANCES

APPEAL TAKEN IN MARLIN CASE, BANKS AND INDIVIDUALS ARE INVOLVED.

Special to The News.

Marlin, July 12.—The filing of an appeal bond in the case of the Marlin National bank, vs. Ben Johnson, et al., begins another chapter in this unique case resulting from a series of financial deals made by a negro who can neither read nor write, from which he obtained loans and advances amounting to nearly $4000, giving as security some mules that he had bought on his credit from Botte and Baskin of Cameron, his crop on the Tarver and Hensley farm, near Rosebud and a horse described in one mortgage as being blue, another as white and another as gray.

In the settlement Tarver and Hensley got his cotton. Burlington State bank, his live stock and the other defendants, the Marlin National bank and Botte and Baskin, were left with the bag to hold. Enter legal proceedings. The case was tried in the district court at Marlin in 1913 and was later appealed and reversed except for personal judgments against Ben Johnson, the principal defendant who was placed in the Falls county jail charged with swindling and one time sentenced to five years servitude in the state penitentiary. On a second hearing he was acquitted.

In the controversy over the division of the spoils or crumbs from the execution of judgments against Ben Johnson, the Marlin National bank was given a judgment which with principal and interest amounted to more than $500 and Botte and Baskin judgment for the amount of vendors lien note on the mules, against Tarver and Hensley and the Burlington state bank.

The case will be appealed and this begins the eighth year of entangling litigation caused by the finance of Ben Johnson.

Special to The News.

Temple, July 13.—It is expected that the case of Forrest Crawford of Troy charged with the killing of Homer Jennings of the same place will be tried at the present term of district court at Belton and will arouse more than usual attention on account of the prominence of all parties and the circumstances with the case.

The principals are all young people in their twenties. The killing occurred at Troy about six weeks ago and the Bell county grand jury returned an indictment against Crawford at the June sitting. The case was set for trial but a continuance was granted owing to the illness of Mrs. Jennings, mother of the dead man. ## Edison Concert

In Our New Music Room.

AT 5 P. M. TODAY (SATURDAY), JULY 14th, 1917.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED—NO CHARGE.

1. Sancta Maria ..... J. Faure
Soprano, in French, Alice Verlet.
Mlle. Verlet is heard to fine advantage here. She is said to have one of the world's finest soprano voices.

2. Variations on a Theme by Correlli ..... Tartini-Knisler
Violin, Samuel Gardner.
Samuel Gardner, a Russian-American violinist. His playing, as you may judge for yourself, shows a sense of proportion and a maturity that few young violin players possess.

3. Rose of Italy ..... Lyons and Yasco
Tenor, Walter Von Brunt and Chorus.
Mr. Van Brunt sings with great feeling, and the chorus, it will be noticed, adds many fine harmony effects to the rendition of the refrain.

4. Blue Danube Waltz ..... Johann Strauss
Imperial Marimba Band.
This Re-Creation by the Imperial Marimba Band has quality that is fascinating. The curious timber of the instruments, a sort of soft, sickly quality, is unique, and for certain kinds of melody mighty appropriate.

5. O Du Mein Holder Abendstein (The Evening Star) ..... Tannhouser
Bass, in German, Arthur Middleton of the Metropolitan Opera Co.
Arthur Middleton is a shining example of how America is producing Grand Opera artists. Mr. Middleton was born, raised and educated in the state of Iowa.

6. At the End of a Beautiful Day ..... Wm. H. Perrins
Soprano and Chorus, Elizabeth Spencer.
Elizabeth Spencer's voice is very familiar to all Edison owners; yet perhaps few of them realize that it is both a soprano and contralto, so wide is its range.

7. Just for Today ..... Jane Bingham Abbott
Contralto, Christine Miller.
To quote W. L. Hubbard of the Chicago Tribune: Miss Miller's voice is exquisite in quality, being rich, warm and sympathetic, and produced with ease and accuracy that makes it absolutely reliable and pure.

8. Kamehameha March ..... Helen Louise and Frank Ferreira.
Hawaiian Guiltars: Helen Louise and Frank Ferreira.
A beautiful Hawaiian march played by well known artists.

Moody, July 13.—Moody had a mad dog scare Sunday and Monday and so far about 18 dogs have been killed this week by the city marshal. On Saturday night a big dog belonging to Mr. Wallace, a farmer living about four miles northwest of Moody, bit a cow belonging to Mr. Wallace and then came to Moody and played havoc among the dogs in town taking in the town from one end to the other and biting dogs he met. He finally was killed by Mr. William Dugger. The mayor has a notice distributed over the town warning the people and advising them to have the dogs that were bit killed or kept up so they can do no harm.

PITCHER HARPER KNOWS HOW TO NAVIGATE LOSE OUT

SAN ANTONIO 3, WACO 1 WAS HOW IT LOOKED WHEN GAME ENDED.

Pitcher Harper, like Old Man Opportunity, raps at no man's door but once. If nobody's home, it's Katy by the door, whatever that means. In other words, when Mr. Harper's the pitcher, the opposing team better take advantage of opportunities to get on, for if they neglect to use said opportunities, Mr. Harper just says "So-long, bullies, and that's the last you see of him."

Anyhow, that's the way he worked in the Friday run-in between San Antonio and Waco. The home boys passed up an opportunity to get into the opening frame and from then on only three of them got on base. On the other hand, the Brunches bunched a single and a double with Vann's error in the fourth for a pair of runs that returned them victorious by a score of 3 to 1.

At that, the first inning was darn hard luck for the struggling Navigators. Miller beat out a slow hit ball down the first-base line and on a hit-and-run Mike Leslie attempted a pretty hit over second. He attempted to bunt and popped foul on top of the grandstand. Then he missed the grandstand and hit Cook's glove. Miller, on second, with James at bat, guessed right on the second ball pitched. Miller guessed wrong on the third. He was right over and he took a big over, and James took a fast one and right at it. But no big cracked. Cook snapped it over to Perry and Harper was caught off so far he made a sprint for third that got him nothing. The tough luck about it was that James' double to the left field fence on the next ball pitched. With two out, Wooten on third and James on second, Tanner hit a hot one past Sicking. The shortstop couldn't get his hands on it, but he managed to boot the ball over into the outfield without losing a step kept right on after it, ran it down and got it to the plate in time to cut James off, scored to Umpire Mike Wooten scored on the play. And Mike's tally was the only one made off four clear hits—and a smash for two bases. And it wasn't bad baseball running at that.

Well, after then on Mister Harper went from there. Miller made an error hit in the third and Leslie drew the only walk issued by Harper and the fourth couple of errors by Perry put Mainquist in scoring distance, but that was all. After that fourth inning, Waco was a Nav saw first base. For five innings it was one two three with emphasis.

Some sharp thinking probably saved the home pitcher at that. After Perry's two bad batters in the two runs in the fourth, the Navigators evidently got a clean signal. Sicking made a wonderful one-hand stop, a quick recovery and a fast tag and sniped Tanner by a step. Then Sicking caught one on the stem and ticketed it for two bases to left-center. Harper was backed up against the fence for a fine catch. That was the only innings that the Navs looked dangerous, except the first.

One of the fans was pessimistic before the game started because it was Friday the 13th—but he couldn't explain why it shouldn't work both ways.

San Antonio scored two in the fourth. Sicking fouled off in front of the plate. Vann couldn't find the handle and the runner got on the ball that Sicking stole second on the ball that Tanner stole second. After Perry lined a beauty over Tanner's head that scored Sicking, Tanner's blunk got behind on Tanner's standing up with Perry running and on the resulting double the home foreman trotted all the way in.

The other San Antonio run was the result of two walks and a hit by Helting. Blunk gave way to Zinn in the eighth. Even Jimmie couldn't have any luck with Harper's delivery, offering being a high fly to Sicking. Donalds held the visitors helpless in the last frame, striking out two of three batters that faced him.

The Girl's Job

A REAL WOMAN'S MAGAZINE.

By Jessie Roberts.

Few magazines entirely run by women. One of these has lately been launched under the name of The Woman Citizen. It is under suffrage auspices, but it is not going to concern itself with suffrage propaganda. It aims to be a political publication and interests itself in civics. A splendid group of women are associated on its staff of editors.

The interesting thing for the self-supporting woman is the fact that this weekly is largely written by her own sex. It will give opportunities to many bright women, and it is sure to be the forerunner of other publications of like character. Probably every one of our large cities will have some such magazine before long, or possibly a branch of others already in the field. Each state has its own civic and political problems, and it is becoming increasingly important to voice the woman's view of these problems.

Many young women who are struggling to be writers would do infinitely better in an editorial capacity. With increasing prospects of employment and of attaining the top places, which in magazines controlled by men is less likely to occur, ambitious women will be wise to train for managerial work.

For the American Woman

THE GIRL VS. HER MOTHER.

By Mary E. Walter.

"When I began to do my part things got right again." This is the way the girl of eighteen explained how the end had come to several years of misunderstanding between herself and her mother, one of those peculiar differences that sometimes arise between people, when the close contact of daily life loses its smoothness.

When she began to do her part? At sixteen the girl was restless under mother discipline. She felt she was no longer a child, that she could think for herself and should be privileged to act for herself, that she did not deserve the restraint she felt the mother was putting on her. Her mother's advice and suggestion, given as in childhood, seemed interference. She was hurt at what she called childish treatment and misunderstanding.

The fretting and chafing within the girl began to show in her manner, in her peevish and unattractive expression and in the unlovely note of harshness in her voice when she addressed her mother, and then finally in actual remonstrance and argument, in trying to make plain her point of view.

The poor mother, hurt, wondering, forgetting her own girlish whims, was deeply grieved at her daughter's "head strong conduct," and made a bad matter worse by assuming the hurt or the severe tone, till the breach grew daily with much unhappiness on both sides.

After several years of this maladjustment the daughter came somehow, as growing youth does, to a sort of awakening. Little by little she got a new view of the situation and saw it clearly on both sides.

"It began to appeal to me, that mother had as many rights as I, that she had her right to all that motherhood claims, consideration, obedience, respect, love, in return for the sacrifice she had made for me," said the girl. "I began to be sorry I had pained her in not fully seeing the duty I owed to her. Yet my self-respect prompted me to feel that as a young woman I had outgrown the treatment of the irresponsible child."

"A woman—that is what I felt I had a right to be considered by mother. But my common sense showed me that I who had greater opportunities than mother had had as a girl, was hardly doing my part as a woman; that perhaps mother had continued to treat me as a child because I had continued to act the child."

The tragedy and heart-break that might have been were averted for the spark of sweet womanhood was lighted in the girl. "So it was I came to try to do my part and gently, by deeds, not words, to claim from mother the sort of treatment and consideration and affection that was due me as a woman," she said. "And how did I claim it? By giving her no longer the impetuous dependence and heedless selfishness of a child. When it seemed that she was trying to discipline me in the old way, I ceased to resent, for that was not the part of a woman who wished to be recognized as a woman, and I felt sure that I patiently persisted she would come to see my part."

Undertaker L. C. Puckett will send the body to Hillsboro this morning, and the funeral will take place there at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Coble's father and mother live in Idaho Falls, Idaho; a sister, Mrs. G. B. Dolan, lives in Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole, father and mother of Mrs. Coble's husband, live in Waco.

Little Stories for Bedtime

It was the morning after Jimmy Skunk's inquisitiveness had led him to jump down from the window of Farmer Brown's cellar into the cellar to see what it was like down there and if there might not be something good to eat there. Jimmy had been sadly disappointed. There was plenty to eat, but not for Jimmy. Everything was where Jimmy couldn't get at it, and he was disgusted, very much so. But this was nothing compared to his feelings when he discovered that though he had been able to get into that cellar easily he couldn't get out. He couldn't climb to that window, and that was the only way out that he could see. Right then and there he wished that he hadn't been so inquisitive.

For a while Jimmy had prowled around grumbling. Then he had curled up in a corner behind a barrel and gone to sleep. If he couldn't eat he could sleep, and he had long before learned that the easiest way to forget troubles is to go to sleep. So Jimmy Skunk was curled up behind a barrel fast asleep when Mrs. Brown decided that she wanted some potatoes for dinner and went down cellar to get them.

Now, like most of the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest Jimmy Skunk is a light sleeper. Suddenly his eyes flew wide open. There was a queer noise inside that barrel behind which he was curled up. It sounded interesting. Jimmy cocked up one ear, then the other, and listened. He wasn't sure whether those sounds came from inside the barrel or from the other side of the barrel or from both. He would investigate and find out. Slowly he got to his feet, for you know he never hurries, yawned, and then calmly walked around the barrel.

Now, Mrs. Brown had nearly filled her apron with potatoes and was just reaching for a last one when in the half light of the cellar she saw something white moving.

"My land!" she exclaimed. "What can that be?"

She stared for half a minute and then she saw clearly that that white thing was the broad stripe on Jimmy Skunk's back. That was all she waited to see. Yes, sir, that was all she waited to see. She screamed. Yes, sir, Mrs. Brown screamed. At the same time she let go of her apron and away went the potatoes in every direction over the floor of the cellar.

One of them actually hit Jimmy Skunk on the head. It almost made him lose his temper. But it didn't quite, which was fortunate for Mrs. Brown.

As for the latter she scrambled up those cellar stairs in a way that wasn't in the least dignified. In fact, she went up those stairs faster than she ever had climbed them before, and when she got to the top she slammed the door and locked it. Yes, sir, she locked it just as if she expected Jimmy Skunk to open it if it wasn't locked.

"For goodness sake, what is the matter?" demanded Farmer Brown's boy, who happened to come in to the kitchen just then. "Is there a burglar down cellar?"

"No-o," panted Mrs. Brown, "but there is a skunk down there. He walked right out from behind the potato barrel, and I guess you'll go without potatoes for your dinner. How ever we are going to get him out of there I don't know. Isn't it terrible?"

Farmer Brown's boy grinned. And down in the cellar Jimmy Skunk was grinning, too.

RAIN FELL THURSDAY WHERE BADLY NEEDED

Persons reaching Waco from Temple and points south and west of that place tell of good rains which fell at points over that section Thursday. The rains were needed badly. It is declared that ground was dryer in many places than it had been in twenty years, with stock water very scarce, also drinking water in places. The drought of last winter caused much of the trouble. The worst conditions were south of Temple and southwest.

QUIET RESTORED IN PEKIN SAYS NOON DAY'S CABLE

Washington, July 13.—Chinese legation dispatches from Peking, dated at noon today, said that quiet had been restored in the capital after a battle in which the monarchist troops of Gen. Chang Hsun were overwhelmed by republican forces. The republican victory was complete, the dispatches said, the last contingents of Chang Hsun's men having been forced to surrender. The monarchist general himself was reported a refugee in the Dutch legation.

Keeping Political "Pull" Out of Draft Exemptions

Political influences in the working of the draft exemption boards is a peril various journals foresee with alarm, and in their support they have no less an authority than the President himself who sounded a note of caution on this point in his proclamation announcing the rules and regulations governing the selection of men for service in the national war-army.

In a Washington dispatch to the Socialist New York Call, the charge is made that both Republicans and Democrats were wrangling for places on the exemption boards "in order that one party or the other may have an opportunity to punish their political foes by sending the sons to the trenches."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, July 14th number, the general rules governing the selection of men for the national war-army are given, and the note of warning that boards shall not be derelict in their duty, is heard from various sources.

Among other articles of supreme importance in this number of the "Digest" are:

COPS ASKED TO ARREST OWLS IN BIG BELFERY

Washington, D. C., July 13.—Since the women of the peace party tried to slip something over on the Washington police, the sides of Lafayette square that face the White House, the Belasco theatre and the "little White House," where Mark Hanna used to direct the destiny of things, now occupied by the militant women, literally bristles with policemen's clubs and policemen. One every fifteen from the women's headquarters to the White House gates. A stranger in the capital might think the Washington police had nothing to do but watch the suffragists, but they have many other things to do, and just as funny things as police in other towns are called upon to do.

At 11 o'clock one night recently, police headquarters was asked to send a detail to the belfry of the Episcopal Church of the Asc

ORDER SURVEY BRAZOS RIVER IN FRONT OF WACO

A thorough survey will be made of the Brazos river and its bed in front of the city, with a view of determining what is best to be done in order to get the sand out of the bed of the river and secure the full benefits of the dam below the city eleven miles.

When the dam was started five years ago, engineers claimed that its completion would result in five and a half to six feet of water in front of Waco, but in the meantime the bed of the river in front of Waco has filled up several feet, it is claimed, giving less water from the dam than had been expected.

The order to make a complete survey of all obstructions in the river and all other phases was issued Thursday by Maj. E. M. Johnston of Galveston, who was here in company with Capt. Gillette of Dallas. They were shown the conditions existing in front of the city by former Mayor James B. Baker. Col. W. W. Seely, and the order for the survey was given at once. It is claimed that piling and false work supports in the river, also a little dam in the stream here at Waco, caused the accumulations of sand and gravel. Blue prints will show the situation exhaustively. Letters will be written the railroads and city and county authorities regarding obstructions in the river.

ANOTHER AGENT ADDED TO LIST IN M'LENNAN COUNTY

The agricultural interests of McLennan county have been still further recognized and a third man is to be sent to this county at once. W. T. Barbee of A. & M. college has been designated by the state department of agriculture to come to Waco Monday and be assistant county demonstration agent in the office of J. A. Pipkin Jr., at the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Barbee will have special charge of the pig club work, Boys' Corn club, animal husbandry, feeding of dairy cattle and similar work. This makes three men in the demonstration work in this county, Messrs. Pipkin and J. L. Quicksall having been so engaged several years.

They are listening to one of the world's greatest artists

Perhaps it is Caruso, perhaps Melba or Farrar. Again it may be Paderewski—or Kreisler.

Or, in these stirring times, perchance they have sought the thrill and the rhythm of a "Sousa March" played by the March King's own band. It isn't Harry Lauder who is entertaining them, for if they were listening to one of Harry's Victor Records they'd be laughing uproariously.

In fact, we can't very well decide which one of the world's greatest artists they are hearing, because the instrument in their home is a Victrola, and the Victrola brings all the world's greatest artists.

Have you a Victrola? You can get one from us, $15 to $400, on easy terms.
